Raps Soviets on Inspection Issue

West To Tell Reds Test Talks Useless

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain are expected to tell Russia in blunt terms Monday that further separate negotiations on a nuclear test ban treaty are useless because of the Soviet attitude on the critical inspection issue.

State Department officials said the record of Soviet maneuvers in recent weeks has made it plain that Moscow is opposed to a ban on nuclear weapons testing under controls. Russia is only interested now, they said, in trying to put the blame for the failure of the long negotiations on the United States and Britain.

Broad-scale negotiations on disarmament are scheduled to open at Geneva March 14 under U.N. auspices. The conference will be made up of 18 nations.

In Washington's view the prospects for any real progress toward ending the nuclear arms race are extremely dim. But the Western powers intend to put fresh emphasis on the need for a nuclear test ban as a starting point.

Russia rejected Friday a U.S.-British offer made earlier this month to merge the test-ban talks with the forthcoming disarmament negotiations. This was a sharp turnaround in the Soviet position. For months Kremlin leaders, including Premier Khrushchev, had declared that they should be merged.

The next nuclear test meeting at Geneva is scheduled for Monday and officials said that presumably that would be the last session of the series, which began more than three years ago. They said the United States and Britain would formally state their position at that time.

The Soviet maneuver followed one of Nov. 28 when the Russian delegation made new proposals to the Western powers on a test-ban treaty. In effect, these proposals called for a declaration that there would be no more nuclear weapons test explosions. The key provision was that each country would police its own pledge.

The Western powers promptly rejected this, saying it was a variety of "self-inspection" that would give no assurance at all that the Soviet Union would live up to its commitment.

State Department officials declared that the Western powers would never agree to major disarmament steps, beginning with a ban on testing, which were not safeguarded by an international inspection system.

The issuance of traffic tickets has climbed steadily this week after City Council complained that traffic laws were not being enforced and Mayor Dean Cranmer, in turn, instructed police to "bear down" on parking violators.

A total of 99 summonses was issued by police Friday and 97 Thursday, compared to the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday totals of 25, 35 and 40, respectively.

In addition, some 100 other tickets were issued by police to motorists violating other traffic laws. "There will be no let-up," the mayor said. "Police will continue their full enforcement of the laws daily. There's little excuse for hanging around the police station."

Mayor Cranmer issued his order to Police Chief Martin Lutsch Wednesday morning after a number of city councilmen at the meeting Tuesday night declared that traffic laws were not being enforced. These statements were made in connection with Council's consideration of a new ordinance to ban parking on 14 additional streets in the city.

The mayor's order read: "All parking regulations must be enforced to the fullest degree, such as double parking on all streets, parking in prohibited areas where signs have been installed, parking on the wrong side of the street and parking too close to intersections."

"The delivery trucks seem to like to park double although they have a place to pull in. This must

Racket Boss Luciano Dies

Heart Attack Ends Lifetime of Crime

NEW YORK (AP)—They don't seem to make them any more like Lucky Luciano, who dropped dead Friday in exile in Italy—and it's just as well they don't. He may well have been the last of the really big-time racketeers.

There's still Frank Costello, the aging onetime prime minister of the underworld. Like Luciano, he emerged from prohibition as a man for the law to reckon with. But Uncle Frank never wielded the naked power of Luciano, who long held title in the underworld as "The Boss"—and in capital letters.

Luciano would never have been cast by Hollywood as a gang leader. He was a bushy-browed man with gray hair. His cheeks were rather paunchy, his nose wide. He dressed well, favoring silk underwear and shirts. He came out of prison once with manicured nails and sporting an expensive jeweled wrist watch and ring.

Francis W. H. Adams, former New York police commissioner who represented Luciano on appeal from his vice sentence, said: "He was a person of very great reserve, a very quiet man. He had a soft voice. He was a fastidious man. But you might call him nondescript otherwise—if you saw him on the street and didn't know him, he wouldn't attract your attention one way or the other."

He was born Salvatore Lucania in Sicily 64 years ago. He came to the United States at the age of nine, went through the fifth grade in public school and was in trouble on a narcotics charge when he was 18. He gained a reputation for coolness in a tight spot, and the nickname "Lucky" when he came back alive from a gangland ride in 1929.

He was an associate during prohibition of such racketeers as Al Capone, Frankie Yale, Arnold Rothstein and Legs Diamond—and outlived them all.

It was an ambitious young special prosecutor who finally tripped up Luciano and thereby

May Still Get Valuable Photos

Ranger 3 To Miss Moon, Orbit Sun

GOLDSTONE TRACKING STATION, Calif. (AP)—The camera-carrying Ranger 3 spacecraft, fired toward the moon Friday from Florida, was headed instead for open space today but may still get valuable pictures of the lunar surface.

Scientists at this desert tracking station commanded the spacecraft by radio this morning to increase speed and to adjust its course slightly. It was hoped these adjustments would put the Ranger in position to begin photographing the previously unphotographed left side of the moon late Sunday morning.

The Ranger is expected to miss the moon by about 25,000 miles, but project officials say useful photographs may be obtained at this distance.

Scientists said it would be hours before they would know the effect of their radio commands on the vehicle.

The speed was increased so that the Ranger will cross the moon's orbital path while in Goldstone's line of sight. Goldstone is the only tracking station capable of issuing commands to the wayward spacecraft.

The change of speed and direction was achieved by igniting a small midcourse rocket engine aboard the craft. When the maneuver command was given, Ranger 3 was 100,398 statute miles from earth and its speed 5,418 miles per hour. It had been losing speed gradually because of the earth's gravitational pull.

The Ranger 3 was fired into orbit around the earth Friday from this rocket base. Then rockets were restarted to yank the moonship out of orbit and boost it up to escape velocity, 24,500 miles per hour, heading it toward the moon.

The rocket engines gave the moon ship too great a shove, which meant it would reach its intended rendezvous point with the moon 11 to 16 hours before the moon got there.

The moon ship would go hurtling onward into space and into orbit around the sun.

The craft carried panels of solar cells, extended like wings, to capture the sun's light and convert it into electric power. In its nose it carried a moon-quake recorder. Scientists would have liked to land this on the moon for 30 days of reports on meteorite impacts and possible tremors in the moon's mass. This is out now.

But two other experiments can still be useful. Telescopic television cameras in the moon ship may still take and relay to earth pictures of the moon's surface.

Another device for measuring high-energy X rays, emitted by materials in the lunar surface, might still obtain important data on whether moon rocks are similar to earth rocks, or are more like meteorites. Information like this could bear on the origin of the moon itself.

The picture of the lunar surface would not be the first. The Soviet Lunik III took pictures of the previously unseen back side of the moon from a distance of 37,000 miles.

In spite of missing the moon, the Ranger 3 moon ship was not without success. Engineers planned to test the maneuvering equipment aboard the spacecraft by commanding it by radio to make certain position changes while it hurtles through space.

The gold and silver-plated moonship was to have covered the distance to its rendezvous point in 66 hours. This distance is about 237,000 miles. As the craft plunged toward the lunar surface, television cameras were to have flashed a picture every 13 seconds to earth—100 pictures in all which would have shown objects as small as 12-feet in diameter under best conditions.

OAS May Delay Cuba Ouster

U.S. Giving Ground In Castro Battle

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States appeared to give ground slightly in hard bargaining today over how and when to oust Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba from inter-American family councils.

Signs pointed to a delay of at least 60 days in removing the Havana regime from the agencies of the Organization of American States.

Obviously weary, Secretary of State Dean Rusk met until after midnight with representatives of the seven-nation go-slow bloc and the 13 hard-line foreign ministers at the hemispheric conference.

He went back at it again today, first with the representatives of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Colombia and then with Mexico, Venezuela, Guatemala, Uruguay and Peru.

Mexico was reported standing firm against the U.S. demand for swift ouster of Cuba from OAS bodies, and was said to be even more adamant than Brazil who has been leading the soft-line bloc until now.

But according to sources in the U.S. delegation, chances are the United States will emerge with enough votes to get much it has been seeking. This would include a ban on arms trade with Cuba—but with none of the other economic sanctions the United States has been seeking—and a formula for removing Castro's Cuba from OAS, probably by a delayed action.

Hope was expressed that an agreement would be reached by tonight in time to shape up a final declaration for a series of votes, paragraph by paragraph, and formal signature of the document some time Monday.

In moving into the lead of the go-slow bloc, Mexico argued there is nothing in the OAS charter permitting either suspension or expulsion of Cuba and insisted on appointment of an inter-American committee to work out the legal steps.

Adoption of any declaration requires a two-thirds vote—14 members—and the advocates of quick, tough action could count on only 13.

If Rusk failed to win over at least one of the seven in the go-slow bloc, he seemed certain to encounter some reluctance in the U.S. Congress on plans for the Alliance for Progress program for Latin America.

U.S. sources expressed confidence they would win over a few of the seven-nation bloc.

In his call for a quarantine on Cuba, Rusk said the United States would not support a ban on arms trade with Cuba—but with none of the other eco-

Outlook Not Favorable for Next Two Days

Astronaut Removed From Capsule After Five-Hour Wait

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The long-awaited, 'round-the-world space flight of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. was postponed again today—this time because of weather—and President Kennedy expressed disappointment that was shared by all Americans.

The weather outlook for the next two days was reported unfavorable, indicating the flight may be delayed until early next week.

Probably no one was more unhappy than the sturdy, 168-pound Glenn, a Marine lieutenant colonel.

Reported In Good Spirits

During hours of waiting in the cramped confinement of his space capsule, waiting for the roar of Atlas rocket engines that would hurl him into space, he was reported in good spirits and anxious only to get on with his historic mission.

A heavy cloud cover over the launching area—which would have made it impossible to track the rocket visually in critical early stages of the flight—forced officials to call a postponement at 9:10 a.m. for at least 24 hours.

Two minutes before the "scrub" decision was announced, O. B. Lloyd, information officer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, telephoned White House press secretary Pierre Salinger at Palm Beach, Fla.

Salinger immediately called the President, who had been watching preparations for the firing on television. He said Kennedy expressed his disappointment.

Glenn's Wife Disappointed
In Arlington, Va., Glenn's wife also was "disappointed but looking forward to the next shot."

However, there was no official word from the NASA on when the flight would be rescheduled.

A weather advisory at 10 a.m. said:

"Although good weather still prevails in the recovery areas, a layer of clouds 7,000 feet high spread over central Florida during the night and early morning. There are some breaks in the clouds but officials felt this is not sufficient for adequate camera coverage of the Mercury Atlas vehicle in flight."

"The weather outlook is unfavorable for at least two more days, primarily because of strong wind and rough seas in the western Atlantic."

Technicians opened the capsule got Glenn unstrapped, and he finally emerged—wearing a broad grin—at 10:25 a.m., five hours, 13 minutes after he had entered the craft.

NASA To Hold Briefing
NASA announced a briefing would be held for newsmen at 2 p.m. A report could come at that time on when the next firing effort will be made.

Glenn was to be taken down from the rocket and returned to his special "ready room" quarters in Hangar S about four miles from the launching pad.

There was no immediate comment from Glenn on the postponement. He had left Hangar S at 4:46 a.m. after a final physical examination and breakfast. He entered the capsule at 5:12 a.m. for a scheduled 7:30 launching.

Two minor problems delayed the launch past the scheduled time and while technicians were correcting one of them the clouds moved over the Cape and completely obscured what had been clear skies earlier.

The postponement thwarted for at least a day America's effort to hurl a man into orbit to match

154 Deaths Probed In '61 By County Coroner's Office

The Columbiana County coroner's office investigated 154 deaths in 1961, including 29 traffic fatalities, it is revealed in the annual report to county commissioners by Dr. William A. Kolozsi, coroner.

The 154 deaths included 87 due to natural causes, 51 accidental, 11 suicides, 4 homicides and one undetermined.

The 29 traffic deaths investigated by the coroner's office were 4 fewer than the 33 investigated in 1960. There were 19 traffic fatalities in the county last year, compared to 26 in 1960.

Twelve of the county traffic fatalities were the result of two vehicles colliding; 5 were due to cars veering off the highway; and 2 were a result of pedestrians stepping into the paths of cars.

In addition to the 19 traffic fatalities in Columbiana County, the coroner's office investigated 10 deaths where the accidents occurred in another county but the victims died in this county. These included six from Mahoning County, three from Beaver, Pa., and one from Hancock, W. Va.

Cases of accidental death not attributed to traffic included:

Crushing (3 industrial); 6; asphyxia (domestic accidents); 3; train 3; explosion and burns (industrial); 2; monoxide gas; 2; suffocation (domestic); 2; drowning; 1; fall (domestic); 1; tractor (accident in Stark County); 1; and trauma (while at work) 1.

The 11 suicides included 7 by gunshot and 4 by hanging.

Of the four homicides investigated, three were by gunshot and one by severe injuries to the head.

The coroner said he was not able to determine whether one accident was accidental or a suicide by an overdose of medication.

Autopsies were ordered in 34 cases.

Dr. Kolozsi said that alcohol determinations resulted in proving that intoxicated drivers contributed to automobile fatalities in many cases. X-rays determined fractures sustained by victims of accidents.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE
A Secret of Really Living

In a southern city I met a young couple whose personalities instantly fascinated me. They were two of the liveliest human beings I had encountered in many a day. They positively glowed with vitality. And there was something charming and lovable about them that made me feel as though I had known them all my life.

Impulsively I blurted out, "You've sure got something different. Where did you get it?"

It was a pretty crude question, no doubt, but I was really taken by these people. Without the slightest hesitation, and in a strong voice clearly audible to the people standing around the young man replied, "We have found a new life and we got it from God, of course."

Wanting very much to know more about them I asked, "How about writing and telling me about yourselves?" And they were nice enough to do that. A few days later I received a letter signed "Enthusiastically, John." And believe me it is an absorbing story from start to finish.

IN HIGH SCHOOL the young man progressively developed attitudes and complexes of the kind that make life miserable for so many teenage boys. "I got real cocky," he writes, "and was a pretty poor school citizen. Then, when I entered college I started drinking and wasting time and my mind was in the gutter a lot. This kept me shaky and guilt-complexed about 100 per cent of the time.

"About the middle of my sophomore year it hit me like a two-by-four between the eyes that my life thus far was a real loss. I knew I had to do something about it. My grades were miserable. I had no peace of mind, very few friends and was physically a milquetoast. Here I was a sophomore in college and didn't know two bits about how to live.

"WELL, I HAD A FRIEND I confided in — and he suggested I read your book on positive thinking. And it helped me a lot. I began daily communication with God. My life immediately began to change, and here's what's happened since:

"My grades went up as I disciplined my study habits. I found peace of mind. I handled my money better. I began to feel more popular. I began workouts and developed my body quite well. I opened my mind to new ideas. I started living!

"I got my B.A. Then I told myself that my two years in the Army were going to be two years of maturing mentally, spiritually, socially and physically. In basic training I learned to work, learned to live amicably with men of different types and races, made many friends from all parts of the U.S.A., and had one interesting experience after another. I learned a great deal in service. I developed culturally. I grew closer to God."

RETURNING HOME this young man went into life insurance sales. "After fourteen months in this business," he reports, "I am a 'First Year Star Producer', am making a good living and am enthusiastic about the purposes I am serving.

"I have some good friends, a wonderful wife and a baby girl who is always happy. I have joined the Episcopal Church and am a director of the men's club there. I have taken up the challenge of bass fishing as an occasional recreation. I rejoice in life and thank God for my blessings and the privilege of being alive."

The letter then concludes with some very forceful statements on how this man now sees what he calls "the real secret of mastering life." He is convinced that "if a man or woman can open his mind and grasp the concept of an all-loving, all-powerful, all-knowing God and truly believe that God's hand is on his shoulder, error will flee and joy and success will be his."

That is the first aspect of what he sees — one side of the coin, so to speak. And the other side? He expresses it by quoting something said to him by a friend of his in his service who influenced his thinking. It is this: "If a man carries his end of the load, then — don't worry — God will always carry his."

IBOP Plans For Its July Convention

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters announced today its 68th annual convention will open July 16 in San Francisco.

The IBOP said notices of the annual meeting have been sent to all local unions, along with a reminder that resolutions to be submitted must be filed at international headquarters in East Liverpool by May 1 in order to be included in the printed program.

Resolutions, changes or amendments to the international constitution must be submitted at least 60 days before the convention date, the IBOP pointed out. Before submission, the constitutional questions must have the approval of the majority of the members present at a meeting of the local proposing them and they must be submitted to E. L. Wheatley, president, and published in The Potters Herald, official union newspaper, 60 days or more in advance of the convention, the IBOP explained.

Resolutions, recommendations or amendments must be signed by the officers of the local and bear its official seal.

The Executive Board approved the convention date after receiving a report from Wheatley and Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer, on the selection of the Jack Tarr hotel.

The convention city was selected by the delegates at the 1961 convention, which was held in Miami Beach, Fla.

Each local union names delegates to the convention, with the number determined by its membership. The convention generally is in session about a week. Until recent years, the convention thrashed out proposals on wages and working conditions to be used in contract bargaining with employers, but that task now is performed by a wage policy committee comprised of elected representatives of local unions.

Herbert To Seek Ohio Supreme Court Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Republicans—five-term Lieut. Gov. Paul M. Herbert and John Hayes Ferguson—announced their intentions to enter the May political primary, battle Thursday.

Herbert, one of Ohio's best known civil and criminal trial lawyers, announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination for Ohio Supreme Court judge. He seeks to succeed ailing Judge Thomas J. Herbert, no relation, who has said he will not run for a second six-year term.

Ferguson, who has held several appointive jobs in state government, announced for the Republican nomination for state treasurer. He is a resident of Cambridge and is no relation to incumbent Democratic Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

First 4-H club congress in Ohio was held in 1916.

THE CALL FROM MOSCOW

"WE WILL BURY YOU," growled the harsh voice at the other end of the line.

"WHAT!" cried Ed Bryson, hardly believing his ears.

"Your belief in God . . ." the voice went on. " . . . an out-worn superstition leading to foolish notions about democracy and freedom and human rights. Communism will correct this."

"Who do you think you're talking to?" blustered Ed.

"To you, Mr. Bryson. The Party needs you to liberate your countrymen. Encourage them to forget morality for it is a myth. Conscience, it is cowardice. Worship, it is weakness . . ."

"NO," Ed exploded! "NYET if you understand that better! We aren't going to forget the spiritual principles that make the Free World strong. Our kind of liberty is built on God's Truth—and you'll never bury That. Go sell your party line somewhere else. I'm on my way to Church!"

Of course, it was just a dream, Ed admits. (Too much pie at bedtime.)

And, thoughtfully, he adds—it shouldn't take a nightmare to make us realize what we believe—and how to preserve that Faith.

IBOP To Publish Monthly Magazine

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will begin issuance of a monthly news magazine to its members, effective Feb. 10, substituting it for one of the issues of the official union newspaper, The Potters Herald, which then will skip one weekly edition out of four.

E. L. Wheatley, IBOP president, said the magazine will be published by Merkle Press, Inc., of Washington, which issues a large number of publications for member unions of the AFL-CIO.

All regular recipients of the Herald will receive the new magazine, which will be mailed from Washington. The new publication "will speak specifically for the membership and in behalf of the ceramics industry in general," it added.

In the new pattern of publication, the Herald will issue three consecutive weekly editions, then the subscribers will receive the news magazine. The Herald is published in the IBOP's own printing plant in East Liverpool.

The printing plant remained there after the balance of the IBOP's headquarters activities were transferred last year to a new building on Route 7. Harry L. Gill is managing editor.

Lisbon Woman Hurt In Fall From Truck

Mrs. Kathryn Dillinger, 38, of Lisbon, was admitted to Salem City Hospital at 1:45 a. m. today for treatment of injuries suffered in a traffic mishap near Logtown earlier in the morning.

According to hospital authorities, Mrs. Dillinger fell from a truck driven by her husband when the door of the vehicle flew open. She received a possible concussion and multiple contusions and lacerations of the lip.

Glenn

the feat accomplished last year by the Russian cosmonauts Gherman Titov and Yuri Gagarin.

Two U.S. astronauts, Alan B. Shepard and Virgil I. Grissom, were rocketed on two 15-minute suborbital flights in 1961. Both these launches also were delayed by weather, each for three days.

Today's postponement was the fifth for Glenn's flight. Originally scheduled for last Dec. 20, when officials felt there was a chance of achieving manned orbit in 1961, it was put off until Jan. 16 when pressure began mounting on the launch crews.

Then technical problems with the Atlas and capsule caused three subsequent short delays.

The postponement was a bitter disappointment to the hundreds of technicians, engineers and scientists involved in the project.

Also disappointed were more than 600 newsmen here from the United States and 15 foreign nations to cover the historic firing, crowds who gathered on the beaches near the Cape, and perhaps millions more across the nation who were watching on television when the shot was called off.

A recovery fleet of 24 ships and 60 planes strung out across the Atlantic Ocean from the Cape to the west coast of Africa will remain on station until the launching is tried again.

Minutes after the postponement was announced, technicians began dumping the volatile liquid oxygen from the Atlas' fuel tanks. Great clouds of steam rose from the base of the rocket as the fuel poured out.

Glenn was reported in good spirits throughout his futile wait. He rested easily and his breathing was normal.

At the time the shot was called off, the count stood at 20 minutes.

The rugged, 168-pound astronaut was awakened at 2 a. m. He showered, shaved and ate a hearty breakfast of poached eggs, steak, caffeine-free coffee, orange juice, toast and jelly.

After donning his silver space suit, he strode out of his quarters, waved cheerily to newsmen outside.

If he was nervous in the face of an historic and dangerous mission, he gave no outward sign of it as he rode in a van to the launch site, went up in an elevator and climbed into the capsule.

Only the weather went wrong.

The Atlas booster, the world-wide tracking network, the recovery forces were all ready for the first American to be committed to orbital flight.

Friday, Glenn watched another Atlas perform flawlessly as it hurled a Ranger 3 spacecraft on a flight to the vicinity of the moon. When Glenn goes, the same type of rocket will boost him into orbit at 17,500 miles an hour at altitudes from 100 to 150 miles.

Whenever the shot is tried again, the astronaut will orbit the earth three times if the rocket can be fired by 9:30 a. m. A delay past 11 a. m. would cut his mission to one orbit.

County Red Cross Chapter To Elect

Board Members of North Columbiana County Chapter of the American Red Cross will elect new officers at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the community room of the Farmers National Bank building. William McKay will preside.

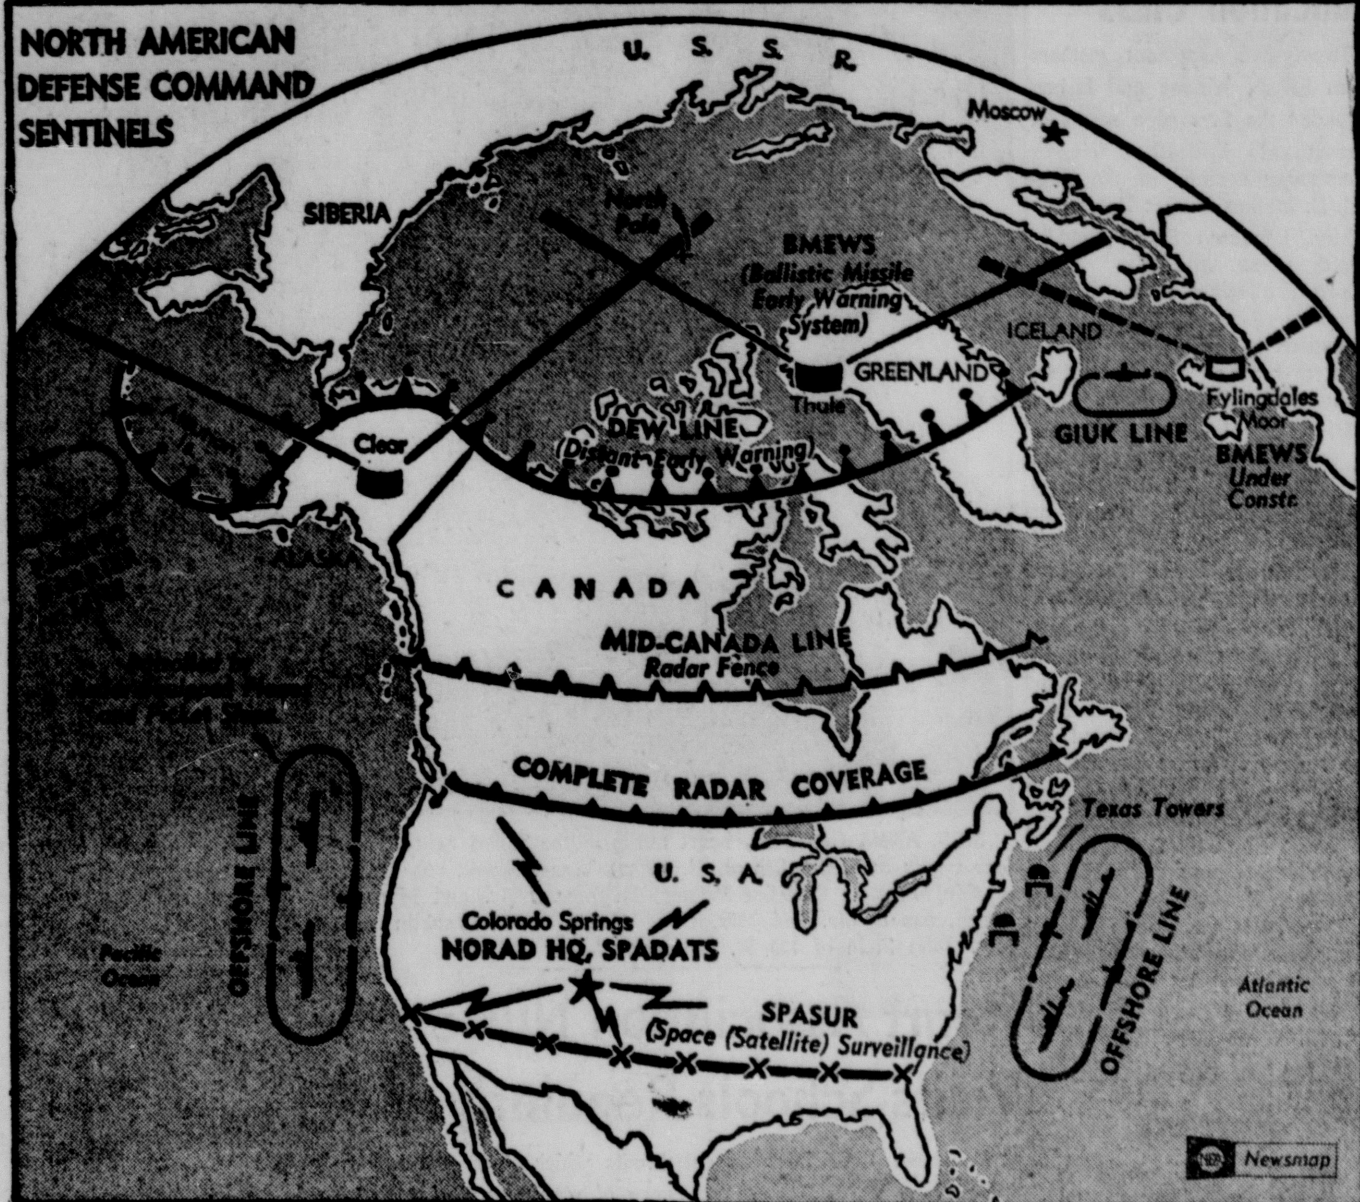

All committee chairmen are asked to attend and present their reports at this quarterly meeting.

CITED AFTER MISHAP

James E. Hodge, 50, of 382 Sharp Ave. was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way following a two-car mishap on Sharp near W. Wilson St. at 3:31 p. m. Friday.

According to police, Hodge pulled his car from the curb and the vehicle was struck by a northbound auto driven by William R. Beeson, 20, of 563 Aetna St., causing minor damage to both cars.

'Electronic Curtain' Guards North America's Frontiers--

A curtain of multimillion-watt radar beams stands guard around most of the North American continent.

With the exception of one station still under construction in England, a warning system against both planes and missiles is in operation.

Newsmap shows these lines of sentinels, which have their nerve center at joint U.S.-Canadian operated North American Defense Command Headquarters at Colorado Springs. At three locations—Clear, Alaska; Thule, Greenland, and later Flyingdales Moor, England—massive radar antennas, similar to one in photo at right, reach out electronically for 2,000 miles to give 15 minutes' warning time of a ballistic missile attack.

Other lines shown on map guard against airplanes on land and sea, while a southern radar line keeps track of orbiting satellites in space.

Mishaps

nick swerved his southbound car left before making a right turn, causing another southbound auto driven by Marguerite O. Arnold, 43, of Chester, W. Va., to strike the rear of the Pushnick car.

The Arnold auto received moderate damage, while Pushnick's vehicle received minor damage, patrolmen reported.

Gerald H. Kahn, 58, of Youngstown, was cited by the Patrol for improper passing after his northbound auto scraped the side of a northbound truck-trailer operated by George W. Marchbanks, 43, of Hanoverton, on Rt. 164, four miles south of Rt. 51, south of Gavers, at 3:45 p. m. Friday, causing minor damage to both vehicles.

Cars operated by Barbara Jeanne Cope, 26, and James Frank Wisser, 19, both of East Palestine, received minor damage when they collided just off Rt. 165, one-half mile north of East Palestine, at 10:10 p. m. Friday.

According to patrolmen, Wisser's car had been parked in a lot adjacent to the road and had just started to move northwest when it struck the Cope auto as it was being driven into the lot.

Salem-Brosius Plant To End Manufacturing

Salem-Brosius, Inc., of Carnegie, Pa., makers of equipment for the metal industries, announced yesterday that manufacturing operations at its Carnegie plant will be halted.

Salem-Brosius came into being in the early 50's when Brosius purchased the Salem Engineering Co. owned by the late Sam Keener. Salem Engineering and Brosius were merged at Carnegie in 1954.

Ward A. Wickwire Jr., president, said that the shut-down will occur when existing orders are completed about the end of March.

He explained that the move is in keeping with the firm's program of greater concentration on design and engineering and de-emphasis on manufacturing.

About 200 employees will be affected.

State Distributes First Gas Tax Funds

Although City Council has authorized it, the city may not have to borrow funds to meet the street department payroll the first of the month.

State Auditor James H. Rhodes announced today that the first 1962 distribution of gasoline tax revenues, which go into the street funds, should be received by the various counties by Monday. Each county will get $20,000 and each township $400, he said.

KIWANIS SPEAKER

EAST PALESTINE — Walter A. Hunston, county commissioner, will discuss the recent closing of the Kyes Receiving Home in East Palestine, when he addresses Kiwanis Club members at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday at Mackall Restaurant.

gained himself a national reputation. His name was Thomas E. Dewey and he had just turned 34 years of age in 1936 when he put Luciano on trial as boss of all organized vice in New York.

Dewey called Lucky "the most dangerous and important racketeer in New York, if not in the country."

Lucky took the stand to admit he never earned an honest dollar in his life. He took bows for bootlegging, gambling and narcotics—but he denied that he was a trafficker in female flesh and he insisted to his dying day that that was "the only thing I never did."

Sent to prison for 30 to 50 years, Luciano was released in 1946 after 10 years behind bars by Dewey, then governor of New York, and deported to Italy.

The Italian government never managed to get anything on Luciano. But at his death, the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics in Washington reported that it was closing in on him in connection with a $150-million dope ring.

Mile Record Snapped By New Zealander

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—New Zealander Peter Snell, running on a grass track, tonight broke the world mile record by clipping .1 seconds off Australian Herbie Elliott's time of 3 minutes 54.5 seconds.

Snell stayed at the rear of the field for the first two laps, run in two minutes. He then opened a gap of 20 yards on Englishman Bruce Tulloh to finish in 3:54.4.

Tulloh was second in 3:59.3 and Dave Thomas, Australia, third in 4:03.5.

Others in the race included New Zealander Murray Halberg and American Ernie Cunniffe.

Trailer License Sale Lagging In County

LISBON — Only 420 trailer licenses have been sold in the county so far this year, according to County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

A total of 643 licenses were sold in 1961. The licenses must be purchased by Tuesday.

All trailer owners are to bring their certificates of titles or bills of sales when filing application for registration.

Penalty for failing to register a house trailer is $25 minimum and $50 maximum. Penalty for failure to pay the tax when due is $1 per day up to a total of $25. The penalties are applied separately and a house trailer owner can be subject to both, Bell said.

be enforced for safety's sake. Parking on the sidewalk, in fact, all parking rules shall be put in full force 24 hours a day."

One man complained that he stopped at the Neon restaurant at 5 a. m. Thursday and got a ticket for a meter violation.

Delivery trucks are having the most difficulty, it appears, because many have been double-parking at business establishments to unload packages.

Taxis are not being permitted to pick up or discharge passengers double-parked. "They must pull into the curb," explains the mayor.

Most first offenders on parking violations are receiving warnings but flagrant violators are being fined.

tural mess in this country is to get other countries to take it off our hands," Bow, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, said.

Kennedy said he needs authority to cut tariffs up to 50 percent "if the output of our astounding productivity is not to pile up increasingly in our warehouses."

Bow said French farmers had staged strikes and "mob scenes" against the agriculture policies of President Charles De Gaulle, and added:

"It is really ridiculous to assume that the French and German farmers are going to make way in their markets for our agricultural surpluses."

Bow said it was misleading for the president to "tell farmers the European Common Market is going to absorb a lot of our surpluses."

Bow also labeled misleading contentions that lowered tariffs would increase United States exports of industrial and manufactured goods.

He said it was obvious that the more competitive the common market becomes within its own markets, the less imports it is going to take from the United States.

Betts, while saying he needed more time to study Kennedy's proposal in detail said he didn't follow the President's reasoning that "trade adjustment assistance to U.S. industry would not amount to a subsidy."

While outlining proposed readjustment allowances, vocational assistance and financial aid to businessmen and farmers, Kennedy had said "this cannot be and will not be a subsidy program of government paternalism."

Betts, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he was also concerned about the President's request for continued authority to accept or reject tariff commission recommendations.

"If he has to have it, maybe he ought to take a look and see if it is constitutional," Betts said.

Heart Association Nurse Visits Schools Regularly

"We have their interests at heart."

So explains Mrs. Anna Gruber, official nurse of the Youngstown Area Heart Association, who regularly checks elementary school pupils to check against sore throats and headaches which could lead to heart disease.

Since school started in September, she has examined 2,000 children and taken 128 cultures from boys and girls with suspicious cases.

Her daily schedule of visits at the local schools is: Prospect, 9 a.m.; Buckeye, 9:30 a.m.; 4th St., 10 a.m.; McKinley, 11 a.m.; St. Paul, 1 p.m. and Reilly, 2 p.m.

MRS. GRUBER'S duties are to check children with sore throats, take temperatures, take swabs of throats which have the appearance of strep-beta germs and if the tests are positive to urge the parents to have the child treated by a family physician.

Adequate treatment will prevent rheumatic fever, kidney damage and heart damage, she points out.

Symptoms of rheumatic fever may be fever over 101 degree, sore and red throats, headache and nausea. When a throat is not treated the following symptoms may be observed by the teacher or parent and point toward rheumatic fever: Listlessness, tiredness, nervousness, biting of nails, irritable, cries easily, lack of appetite, pallor, unexplained nose bleeds, aches in joints, headache and stomachache.

Farm News

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

Check Stored Bulbs

Remember those roots, corms, and tubers you stored last fall? Better examine them now for signs of decay or severe drying, advises Marvin Carboneau, Ohio State University Extension floriculturist.

Carboneau suggests you check on dahlia and begonia tubers, canna and caladium roots, and gladiolus corms. If they show signs of rot, cut away the soft portion and allow the cut to dry before returning the plant parts to storage. If decay is severe, move plant parts to a drier place.

If roots and tubers show signs of shriveling, it means they are too dry. Moisten slightly the material in which the plant parts are stored. Don't get the material too wet or the roots and tubers may rot, he says.

Planning Vegetable Garden

When the new seed catalogs start giving you gardening fever it's time to begin planning your 1962 vegetable garden. Right now isn't too early to plan, says E. C. Wittmeyer, Ohio State University Extension horticulturist.

Here are some pointers to consider:

1. Choose crops to fit available space. If yours is a "postage stamp" garden, don't figure on a lot of muskmelons, cucumbers, sweet corn, or other vegetables which require much space for what they produce. Tomatoes, snap beans, carrots, onions, beets, turnips, and lettuce will give you more vegetables from the same sized plot.

2. Group vegetables according to growing seasons and growth characteristics. Plant perennial crops, such as asparagus, rhubarb, and berries, along one side of the garden.

3. Make successive plantings for a continuous supply of fresh vegetables. Examples: two or three plantings of leaf lettuce and radishes a week or 10 days apart in the spring, and another planting in the fall; two plantings of carrots, beets, and cabbage, one early in the spring, another in summer; several plantings of sweet corn and snap beans.

There are about 45 different kinds of vegetables you can raise in Ohio, Wittmeyer says, but many of these are not grown because gardeners are not familiar with them. Here's a list of some less common ones he suggests you try just for fun: broccoli, Brussels sprouts, Chinese cabbage, Swiss chard, endive, kale, kohlrabi, mustard, okra, parsley, rutabagas, and New Zealand spinach.

Potato Growers To Meet

The pros and cons of market orders, acreage allotments, marketing quotas and similar controls for potato growers will be discussed by Wallace Barr, Ohio State University Extension economist at the 47th annual meeting of the Ohio Vegetable and Potato Growers Association in Cincinnati Jan. 28-31.

THE SALEM-PERRY Township Home Extension meeting was held at Perry Grange hall with 14 members present. Mrs. Glen Bates presided at the business session. Mrs. Paul Casey of Leetonia and Mrs. Walter Hilliard of Salem gave an interesting discussion on "Different Styles for Different Figures." At the next meeting on February Salads will be discussed. Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. Carl Prosser of Lisbon will attend leaders training meeting Feb. 7 at the Lisbon Christian Church.

Officers met at the home of Mrs. Ivan Harrold Wednesday and planned a kitchen tour for the May meeting. Plans were made for a bus trip to Pittsburgh Feb. 7, with Mrs. Norman Kornbau taking reservations. They will also attend the theatre presentation of "The Earth Among the Stars" at the Buhl Planetarium. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Norman Kornbau.

Mrs. Donald Vignon, Mrs. Harold Rohrer, Mrs. John Volpe, Mrs. Thomas Tilley, Mrs. Evan Jones, Mrs. Norman Kornbau, Mrs. Leslie Tingle, Mrs. Blanche Weikart and Mrs. Martha Richards attended the W.S.C.S meeting at the Methodist Church in Leetonia recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kornbau were dinner guests of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kornbau of Mercer, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stouffer and grandson Howard Schnepf were Thursday callers in the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Shepard of Salem.

EX-NAZI GENERAL ARRESTED — Former SS Gen. Karl Wolff, above, a prominent figure in German-Nazi peace negotiations in 1945, is being held in West Germany on suspicion of crimes against the Jewish people. Wolff, 62, one-time chief of staff to SS boss Heinrich Himmler, was arrested at his villa at Kempfenhausen, on Lake Starnberg, West Germany. This picture of Wolff was made in 1947 when he testified for the defense at the Nuernberg trials.

16 From City to Attend Girl Scout Event In July

Sixteen girls from the five local senior Girl Scout Troops will attend the third Girl Scout Senior Roundup in Vermont in July.

Eight girls will serve as delegates at Button Bay State Park, while the others will attend the alternates' camp at DAR State Park nearby.

Plans for the event were furthered when the two patrols met Saturday with troop leaders Mrs. James Wright of Troop 9 and Mrs. Hugh Kells, of Troop 4 at the Wright home on Albany Road.

The girls in the delegate patrol are Kathy Hack, Nancy Flack, Kathy Kells, Rosemary Sechler, Karen Beeler, Dianne Wright, Susan Snyder and Barbara Brelth. Girls in the alterante patrol are Judy Durham, Judy Hayes, Sue Yates, Nancy Jensen, Connie Christofaris, Sally Minth, Francine Evans and Janice Whitcomb.

Purpose of the Roundup is to provide added interest and stimulation to programs in troops and camps to give senior Girl Scouts a sense of belonging to a strong and unified organization, to promote better understanding and use of the patrol system, to provide those attending with experience in living and working with girls from many different backgrounds and from many parts of the nation, and to aid in public understanding of Girl Scouting. Approximately 8,000 girls and 2,000 adult staff members from all over the world will participate in the Roundup. The theme will be "Honor the Past-Serve the Future."

Large Quaker heads, to identify the Salem Scout Tents at the Roundup, were made by the girls at the recent meeting and individual work assignments were discussed.

Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Kells, who will accompany the alternate patrol to Vermont, will meet with the scouts Feb. 10 at the Wright home for another planning session. Alternate patrols, including girls from Niles, East Liverpool, Columbiana, Warren, Youngstown and Salem, met recently at Youngstown Camp Millwood in preparation for their trip to the DAR State Park. While there, the alternates will have a chance to visit the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup.

FLU HITS SCHOOLS — COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—School children and teachers in eight Ohio counties have been hit by a type of influenza termed influenza "B". Dr. Winslow Bashe, chief of the state's communicable diseases Division reports.

The illness, which generally runs three to four days, has broken out noticeably in Perry, Franklin, Hamilton, Clermont, Preble, Scioto, Cuyahoga and Medina counties, Bashe said.

Quakers Continue Mastery Over Wellsville 66-53

Beery Scores 17 As Locals Net 11th Win

By LYNN BROWNE
News Sports Writer

The Salem Quakers continued their winning ways Friday night as they posted a 66-53 win over a game bunch of Wellsville Tigers in the Bengals home den.

It was the 11th win in 12 outings for the Quakers and the 11th consecutive time they have "tamed" the Tigers.

Although the locals didn't play poor ball, they did appear to be a little on the ragged side.

Wellsville's Head Coach Jack McDevitt and Salem Coach John

Cabas were pretty much in agreement as to the reason for the Quakers' bad playing at times.

"When a good team plays a squad that isn't in its class, the better team tends to look bad," McDevitt said. "The poorer team doesn't react as fast, and consequently gets in the better squad's way."

"McDEVITT wasn't detracting from his charges' performance, however. "They played a real fine game," he said. "They never gave up; they stayed in there all the way."

"Salem just had too much," the mentor reflected. "They had too much poise, too much finesse, too much experience and too much good work on the boards."

"We're too young," he said. "All our boys are juniors except Ours." Ours, a terror on the grid-iron as well as the hardwoods, was high point man for the game.

The 5-8 senior riddled the nets with eight floor-shots and eight free-throws for 24 tallies.

"My boys did all right. We were ready and anxious for them," McDevitt concluded. "A game like this is hard to play," Coach Cabas said. "You're never in trouble but you can't break away either. The other team holds on and you can't get things working smoothly."

"WHEN YOU have a poor floor, a light reflecting on the basket, that kind of crowd and loose officiating, it's hard for a team to play good ball," he added.

"We sure missed Bob Eskay," Cabas said. Eskay, suffering from a sprained back, played less than two minutes of the game.

"I doubt if he'll play tomorrow night, and if he does, I don't think he'll be able to start," Cabas said.

"I thought Ted Thorne looked better tonight, and also feel Sam Watson did a real good job," he said.

Thorne had his best night of the season as he meshed 14 tallies and did an outstanding job on the boards.

Junior Bill Beery led the local attack with 17 counters, followed by John Borrelli with 15.

A brief dispute over an official's call in the closing seconds of the second period brought the highly-charged crowd to its feet.

ONE OFFICIAL charged Wellsville's Alvan Thompson with fouling Salem's Sam Watson while Watson was in the act of shooting. While the first official was notifying the official scorer of the foul, the second official charged goal-tending on Watson's shot against Wellsville. The first official then ruled the basket good.

The dispute arose when Wellsville players claimed that the ball was knocked out of the basket by a Salem player and not a Tiger. However, the referees' decision remained unchanged and Watson went to the free-throw line. He missed the chance to turn the play into a three-pointer.

Early in the first period the Tigers moved to an 8-4 lead but the locals battled back and were ahead 18-15 going into the second quarter. The second period saw Salem widen its lead to 10 points early in the stanza and then lead by a 37-23 score at intermission. The score at the end of the third quarter was 50-38.

Cabas will send his cagers into action again tonight against Akron South in the local gym. Game time is slated for 7 p.m.

Littler Holds 5-Stroke Lead

S. Francisco Open Enters 3rd Round

By P. D. ELDRED
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The vultures, as tournament-wise Gene Littler jokingly called his fellow pros, were five strokes or more back of the U.S. Open champion going into the third round of the $50,000 San Francisco Open today, but Gene found no cause for complacency.

"I've got to keep charging those greens for birdies and pars or those vultures behind will catch me," Littler said after blazing around Harding Park in a three-under-par 68 for a two-round total of 133—nine strokes under par.

Five strokes back at 138 are the veteran Texas star, Billy Maxwell, young Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., and Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., winner of the recent San Diego Open.

Bunched a stroke farther back at 139 were Eric Monti, Don Fairfield, Billy Casper, Bob Harris, Tommy Aaron and Bob Rosburg.

Lanky George Archer of San Francisco, who plays Harding Park as his home course, was the only amateur anywhere near the front runners. He turned in a par 71 for a respectable one under 141 for his two rounds.

Two days of sunny, dry weather have turned the layout into a fast track and, although it may be partly overcast today, the weatherman figured there would be no rain—at least not before Sunday.

The field was cut to 90 pros and ties Friday night, along with 10 amateurs. Pros with two round scores of 148 or better stayed in contention.

Salem Frosh Gain Eighth Win, 33-30 Over E. Palestine

Salem's Freshman basketball squad, under the coaching of Tom Cope, drove to its fifth straight win and eighth in 12 starts this season with a 33-30 decision over the East Palestine Frosh on the loser's court Friday afternoon.

The local quintet dominated throughout, although the hosts scored three buckets in the final seconds to pull close to the victors. Salem posted quarter leads of 10-6, 21-14 and 31-18.

Rick Gregg was again high point man for the local Frosh with nine tallies, with teammates Cody Goard and Jim Garrett close behind with eight apiece. Bill Harris was high for the losers with eight markers.

A strong backboard game won it for Coach Cope's charges as Gregg, Goard and Dean Keller each picked off eight saves and Mike Hickling seven. Salem committed only four fouls, while East Palestine was charged with 14.

The Frosh will travel to Allamoon for their next encounter.

Colorado Host to Oklahoma State

Big 8 Lead Eyed By Kansas State

By The Associated Press
College basketball begins to pick up momentum again tonight following the midseason slowdown for exams. Now the conference title contenders and the aspiring independent powers start the big push toward the big goals—37 berths in two major postseason tournaments, the NCAA and the National Invitation.

It's not going too far out on a limb to say Ohio state is almost a sure-shot bet to repeat as Big Ten champion, and that league's entry in the NCAA. But otherwise, conference races are pretty much muddled.

Tonight's schedule is relatively light for a Saturday, but there still are a dozen or so key games involving conference contenders and leading independents.

Kansas State's Wildcats, 13-2 and ranked fourth nationally, could take over as Big Eight leader—with an assist from Oklahoma State's Aggies. K-State is at Iowa State and the Aggies play at Colorado, upset winner over Kansas State earlier this month and current Big Eight pacesetter at 3-0. The Wildcats are 3-1.

Ninth-ranked Bradley, tops in the Missouri Valley but closely impressed by Cincinnati and Wichita, will try to win tonight with All-America Chet Walker, out of action temporarily with a kidney disorder. The Braves, 4-1 in the conference and 11-3 over-all, have a home game against North Texas.

Cincinnati (14-2 and 4-2) is idle tonight while Wichita (14-4 and 5-2) has an out-of-conference game at Louisville.

West Virginia, 13-3 and all alone at the top of the Southern Conference standings with a glistening 9-0 mark, is favored to make it 10-0 against William and Mary at Norfolk, Va.

In the only Big Five game, Stanford seeks revenge against Washington. Washington, 8-7 overall and 2-4 in the league, upset the Indians (9-3 and 2-1) 73-61 Friday night in the first of two straight meetings.

Utah State raced to an easy 88-69 conquest of Brigham Young and Colorado State took Wyoming 56-50 in a pair of Skyline Conference games.

Roger Strickland, the national small college scoring leader, had 50 points in leading Jacksonville (Fla.) to a 133-102 decision over Tampa. Strickland hit 62 per cent of his field goal attempts in improving on his average of 32.9.

Golden Eagles Lose Sixth

Canfield Closes In On Title With 46-35 Win Over United

Canfield High School's once-beaten basketball team marched one step closer to the Turnpike Conference cage crown with a 46-35 victory over United High on the loser's court Friday night.

The Cardinals, with only three league contests remaining on the schedule, are 11-1 over-all and 7-0 in conference play, two games ahead of second place West Branch and of Springfield Local, both with 5-2 league marks.

The loss sent the Golden Eagles to a 3-4 league record and an even 6-6 over-all.

Canfield broke out to a 12-7 first period lead last night in a stiff defensive effort by both clubs, and then extended the margin to 24-16 at halftime and 36-27 after three quarters.

Senior Bob Dove was again the big gun for the winners with 17 markers, while teammate Jim Briggs was close behind with 16 tallies. United's leading scorer Jerry Schaffer was high for the losers with 14 counters.

Canfield's Reserves also dominated in the preliminary game, winning 54-35 over the United Jayvees.

Both teams will be in action again tonight in conference tilts, with United home to Jackson-Milton and Canfield entertaining Springfield Local.

RAIN FLOODS ROADS

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Forty highways in Allen County were flooded Friday after two inches of rain in 15 hours caused the Auglaize River to back up for about eight miles behind an ice gorge in Fort Amanda State Park.

The rainfall couldn't soak into the frozen ground and other streams and lowlands in the area were immersed also. The basement of a school building at Spencerville flooded and 600 pupils were sent home at noon.

Wide Areas of Nation Soaked

Rain-Swollen Chagrin River Routs 250 Near Cleveland

By The Associated Press
Rain and drizzle continued to soak wide areas of the nation today, turning the winter's snow accumulation to slush and swelling rivers with heavy runoff.

Drenching rains in north-central Indiana swelled streams and sent the Wabash River over its banks in Montezuma. Schools closed in Lebanon when a flash flood threatened 100 homes.

Roads were flooded near Lima, Ohio, soaked by two inches. Heavy runoff on the frozen ground created an ice jam on the Auglaize River. A school in Spencerville was flooded.

About 250 residents of Eastlake and Willoughby Hills, near Cleveland, were routed by the Chagrin River, which was flowing at up to nine feet above normal.

More than 100 barges broke loose from moorings on the Ohio River near Cairo, Ill., as the river rose two feet. They were swept downstream into the ice-choked Mississippi River, which has been closed to traffic by a huge ice jam since Jan. 12.

Thunderstorms brought heavy rain to parts of Mississippi and Alabama, including 1.50 inches at Columbus, Miss. The rain belt extended northeast across New York State into New England.

Rain and drizzle were reported in the Pacific Northwest and scattered light snow fell in Montana and North Dakota.

A cold front pushed southeastward dropping readings to below zero in North Dakota and Minnesota. It was -11 at International Falls, Minn., during the night. The front created a freezing line that extended from southern New Mexico to Lake Erie.

Temperatures in the Far West were mostly in the 40s, with a few 50s in Southern California.

Mild readings were common in the southeastern third of the nation, ranging from the 50s in eastern Texas, the Ohio Valley and the Middle Atlantic area to the 70s in southern Florida.

Ex-Mayor Involved In Scandal Dies

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—A former Dover mayor acquitted in a gambling payoff scandal a year ago collapsed and died in Union Hospital Friday night.

Hospital authorities said Clifford C. Froelich may have suffered a heart attack. He was hospitalized Jan. 23 for treatment of another ailment. He was 62 and was a three-term Republican mayor.

Froelich was acquitted last April by a Tuscarawas County common pleas jury of six counts of bribery. He had been accused with five smoke shop operators.

Since Froelich did not take the stand during his trial, it was not known why he had accepted $1,500 from George Markos, now serving a 20-to-25-year prison term.
